EXPERIENCE

Mar 2016 - Feb 2018

Product Designer at LiveRamp • San Francisco, CA

Worked on a two-person design team to deliver designs for the company's B2B adtech platform, which serves 400+ clients.

Designed and launched a new organizational structure for the platform after leading a cross-team information architecture project, including new navigation and help content.

Conducted a series of user interviews to gather feedback on statistics and reporting. Designed and shipped a reusable reporting/analytics framework.

As Product Manager, planned, designed, oversaw development, and shipped a notifications system for the platform. Coordinated across engineering, product, and operations teams for requirements and feedback.

As UX Engineer, outlined and built a toolkit of reusable React components to enable more efficient development, resulting in 100hrs a week estimated time savings across the full-stack team.

Sept 2015 - Mar 2016

Product Implementation Manager at LiveRamp • San Francisco, CA

Provided technical support and guidance to 50+ clients. Assisted with product launch, including feature QA, client and product feedback, and stakeholder communication.
